ESSAYS THAT WERE A CREDIT

Given at the Commencement Last Night.
A Well Filled Auditorium—Liberal Applause—A Rich Profusion of Floral Displays That Were Tastefully Arranged.

The commencement exercises of '96 are over, and the termination of the graduates' career in the public schools was observed last night with appropriate ceremony. There was a large attendance in the spacious auditorium of the Grand Opera house, of a class of people of a representative character, who, in appreciation of the efforts of those who delivered carefully prepared essays, expressed their pleasure, and at the close of each address gave unstinted applause.

The opening of the exercises was delayed for some time, owing to a slight misunderstanding that occurred. The first three rows of seats were reserved for the chorus, and through some mistake these seats were being filled by those in the audience. Until the latter could be seated elsewhere, the opening of the exercises was deferred. When the curtain ascended it revealed the graduating class standing in the front, attired in the customary snowy white garments. In the rear were the large chorus of voices, selected from the lesser classes. All were clothed in their best, and it was indeed a pleasing sight to behold. The floral display on the stage was as usual an elaborate one. A palace arch of green and roses that surmounted a small stand stood out in bold relief from among a profusion of plants of different hues and descriptions. The settings blended in a harmonious manner, the exquisitely arranged decorations being the result of the ingenuity of Stage Manager Bridge, who for nine consecutive years has performed this duty for the commencement exercises.

The motto of the class this year is "Lay not aside the wreath unfinished." The school sang The Pilgrim's Chorus, the opening selection, and made an impression. Miss Martha Porter presided at the piano, which position she filled in an efficient manner during the remainder of the evening.

A noticeable feature of the occasion was the utter lack of embarrassment upon the part of the participants, each one in their proper turn, without hesitation whatever, advancing to the front and readily proceeded to render their essays in a charming, free and graceful manner. As individuals and as a class the affair was a pronounced success, and much credit is reflected upon the faculty who were instrumental in guiding and instructing them in the pursuit of knowledge.

After the singing of the chorus, Reverend Jason Manley, of Clarington, at present visiting in the city, stepped forward and delivered the invocation, after which the chorus gave "Hark! Apollo Strikes the lyre," and then retired from the stage, marching in time with the music, with a preciseness of step that suggested the cadence of trained soldiery. Now the crucial point was reached and a general state of expectancy was apparent in the features of an attentive audience, who soon had the pleasure of listening to the first essay on the program, "A Modern Pilgrimage," by Miss Mayme Adams, who delighted her hearers with a logical and deeply interesting address. The line of thought given was that we should speed to a castle of knowledge, for in it are treasures. The speaker deftly and descriptively told of the difficulties encountered in the search of this requisite, and how wisdom would guide our footsteps in searching in the inner recesses, when perplexing difficulties arose to throw us into a state of confusion. Continuing, Miss Adams said that knowledge can always be enlarged, and at the conclusion of her address sat down amid a hearty hand clapping.

Miss Margaret Groves followed with "Silent Influences," and dealt with her subject, which was well chosen, in an able and comprehensive manner. She told how influences took possession of our very being. They are in the earth, the sky; nature is full of them. Glowingly, and with a choice of language that commanded closest attention, the speaker took her audience, literally speaking, from the morning and springtime of life, delineating with peculiar fascination the beauty and entertaining scenes of nature as it journeyed on, finally ushering in the shades of eventide and its gentle influences, so unconsciously communicated to us. She told how influence could pierce through a heart, and, touching a cord, would bring to the surface feelings that so long lay dormant. Speaking of home, the speaker said that it was the most important school of character. It is there that every human being receives that moral training that colors their whole life. The essay evoked rounds of applause, and after the sextette rendered a selection, Miss S. McKenty gave her subject, "Fancy's Child." This subject gave evidence of painstaking preparation and was deserving of the applause that followed the rendition of her address. The speaker's enunciation was excellent, and in her opening remarks she spoke of midnight as the most solemn and mystical hour of the 24. From the bell in the tower the twelve measured strokes are telling the world that yesterday and tomorrow stand face to face. The speaker then entered into a lengthy and descriptive review of the life and home of Shakespeare, paying a tribute to the immortal author and ingeniously weaving into a fancied reality a supposed visit to the scene of Shakespeare's home, and with eager interest watching the gradual rise of the latter to the highest pinnacle of fame. This paper was a lengthy one and full of merit. Miss McKenty gracefully retired and gave place to the speaker following.

"The Deserted House" was the subject chosen by Miss May Anderson, and with an intelligent and apt description told of how Nature leads us as a mother leads a child. Nature is at once both parent and teacher. Her hand is liberal and bestows on her children the gifts that they need. Nature has a balm for every condition. Miss Anderson took her audience into a fanciful visit to nature, depicting the beautiful scenes of early morn, and proceeding, noting the preceptible changes as the day wore on. Through valleys and over hills, in sequestered nooks, shaded by heavy foliage, the audience in fancy followed, the pictured scenes being mentally portrayed to them in a vivid manner. The subject of the essay, "A Deserted House" used as an illustration of the birth, maturity, decline and death of a human being showed depth of reasoning power, and application of a wide scope of observation. At first the speaker described a cottage which in time, undergoing continual changes, assumed more imposing proportions, finally taking on the form of a mansion. Approaching the latter place after an absence of many years, signs of desolation became apparent, and upon a closer look it is found to be deserted. The occupant has departed and the soul that lived in this structure has gone to a far distant city to live in a mansion incorruptible by the ravages of time. Concluding, Miss Anderson gracefully bowed herself away, receiving applause for her able effort.

A chorus of mixed voices then sang a selection entitled, "Tis Morn," in an appreciable manner, after which Miss Maud Baum gave her subject, "Ruins of Time." Epitomized is an account of the interesting essay. Time, said the speaker, has like some dark plumaged bird, has hovered over our fair land; he has dropped his fatal pinions everywhere. Even our cemeteries have not been exempt. He has sealed from the tomb the names of the inhabitants as though it were his intention to erase from the face of the earth the thought of man's existence. Continuing, the speaker called attention to the monuments of the ruins of time that may be seen in the eastern hemisphere. That region contains but the fragments of an empire that in past years yielded its glories to the conqueror and alone stand, those lofty pillars that time has not been able to destroy. Continuing, the speaker dwelt at length on the impression of the poet, the pastor, the historian, as they gazed upon the ruins of the ancient coliseum at Rome. The historian regards the sight as one of grandeur and beauty—he sees the realm of fallen beauty as it was of yore. The pastor takes another view. He realizes that the devouring hand has laid waste the eastern grandeur; that each proud kingdom appears to be its own sad sepulcher. This essay evoked generous applause, and the last of the speakers, Miss Bernice Dunlap, under the head of "Subjectum Non Est," in a truly interesting and captivating manner, told of the apparently insurmountable and the many extremely aggravating little difficulties that be-

DEATH CAME SUDDENLY

Miss Anna Bentley Passed Away Last Night.

WAS ILL BUT A FEW HOURS

Seized With an Apoplectic Stroke While at Work on Her Reports Yesterday Morning—She Never Regained Consciousness.

Miss Anna Bentley, teacher of the B grammar school since the opening of the new school building, died at the home of George Adam last evening at 10 minutes after 9 o'clock, aged 24 years. The death of the young lady came very suddenly, as she was out calling on Thursday evening and went to bed in good health. On Friday morning she arose at 5 o'clock in company with her roommate, Miss Betz, also a teacher, for the purpose of finishing up her reports, as school was about to close. She worked until 15 minutes to 6 o'clock, when, with a yawn, she fell from the chair in which she was seated. Miss Betz ran to her side and called for Mr. Adam and wife. Mr. Adam went for a doctor immediately, who, upon his arrival, pronounced it an apoplectic stroke, caused by over taxation of the mind. Professor Sanor was sent for and at once telegraphed for her parents, who arrived on the noon train yesterday. A sister, who is a teacher in the Lisbon schools, was sent for and arrived last evening, in company with the superintendent of the Lisbon schools. Miss Bentley never regained consciousness and it is supposed she burst a blood vessel in the brain. The young lady was of a cheerful disposition, beloved by all who knew her, and had many friends in the city who will join with the heart broken parents in their grief. She was an earnest, consistent Christian, and the many sorrowing ones left behind have the consolation of knowing that she has passed to a better world beyond. The parents of the young lady are well known in the county, her father being a brother of ex-County Treasurer Bentley. Miss Bentley, before coming to our city, was one of the most prominent teachers in the western part of the county. She was for a year or more secretary of the Columbiana County Teachers' Institute, and hence was well known among the members of her profession throughout this and adjoining counties.

In scholarship she was recognized among our teachers as one of the broadest and most accurate in the corps, and her decision was universally considered final in all discussions over technical points in the studies she taught. She held high grade certificates in this and Carroll counties, and a five year certificate in this city. Her scholars in a body accompanied the remains to the 9 o'clock train this morning, and there bid a last farewell to all that was mortal of their beloved teacher. The remains were taken to Kensington.

Superintendent Sanor, Principal Florence Updegraff, and a large delegation of teachers and pupils will attend the funeral at Kensington on Monday, and the flag at the Central school will float at half mast on the day of the funeral.

A TOUR OF INSPECTION.

The Street Committee are Looking After Damaged Property.

Councilmen Peake, Kent and Challis, the street committee, viewed the Houser property on Lisbon road yesterday, in order to ascertain the damage caused by the big rain. A number of cellars which had been flooded were also looked over, and the amount of loss ascertained. The committee will view the bridge at the intersection of Ravine street and Bradshaw avenue this afternoon. This old structure is in a dangerous condition, the timbers having become so rotten that drivers are reluctant to cross it with their teams. It is thought a stone bridge will be recommended to the board of improvements. The culvert at Minerva street will also come in for a share of attention, and larger pipe recommended.

COMMENCING TO ARRIVE.

The Bridge People are Rapidly Forging Ahead.

From all appearances the bridge across the river will be completed at least three weeks ahead of time, as the pier men are that far ahead at present, and expect to have their work completed by the middle of June instead of July, the time limit set in the contract. The first two car loads of steel arrived this morning and are now lying on board the cars on the siding at the freight depot. The steel work will be shipped in here from now on just as fast as it can be put up by the contractors, and in a few weeks the doubtful people can see enough bridge to convince even them that it will be built.

AN INJUNCTION.

A Center Township Farmer Wants a Restraining Order.

Lisbon, May 23.—A. Clark Thomas entered suit in court this morning asking for a restraining order against Thomas and Lettie Kelly, to enjoin them from entering upon his premises. Thomas owns two tracts of land in Center township, containing in all about 97 acres. Trouble recently arose between him and the defendants, who had always been in the habit of driving across his land, and he forbade them from doing so. Thomas claims his orders were unheeded, and at a number of times they have taken down his fences and driven across his land, committing constant acts of trespass, and doing irreparable damage.

Rosetta J. Battery was this morning appointed administrator of the personal estate of Benjamin L. Wise, with $100 bond.

BURNED OUT.

The Telephone Station at Sistersville Entirely Destroyed.

McGhie & Moore today received a telegram from Howard Kerr announcing the fact that their telephone station at Sistersville had been entirely destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning. The office was located in one of the central blocks of the town, a large frame building, and it is presumed that the fire caught from one of the stores underneath. It was an impossibility to save anything, as there is as yet no fire company in the town, and the place burned like tinder, the building being entirely destroyed. The place will be an entire loss, as there was no insurance, the companies refusing to take any risks on the building.

FOR CORRUPT WORK.

Resolution Introduced to Impeach President Cleveland.

Special to News Review.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—M. W. Howard, the Populist representative from Alabama, introduced a resolution in the house today for the impeachment of President Cleveland. The grounds for impeachment are alleged illegal sale of bonds, illegal use of proceeds, corruption in politics, refusal to enforce the anti-trust law. A motion to reconsider received only two or three votes.

A NEW LINE

To be Erected by the Bell Telephone Company.

The Central District and Printing Telephone company received a car load of poles yesterday, which will be used in erecting a telephone line between the city and possessions of the Ohio Valley Gas company, across the river. The poles will be placed in position at once, and the river will be spanned by the wires instead of under water as at present. After the new bridge is finished the line will be changed to cross that structure.

Making Complaints.

Complaints have been made to the township trustees by the supervisor of District No. 3, who has charge of the Calcutta road, that people are in the habit of throwing tin cans on the road, interfering greatly with the working of the road machine. The township trustees will put signs up at once, ordering them to cease the practice or they will be arrested. The watering trough at Smith's will also be fixed by Monday or Tuesday under the supervision of Trustees Beardmore and Albright.

Sporting Notes.

The big city roller was run over the West End ball ground this morning.

None of the ball players from here were needed at Cumberland or Toronto today.

Ticket Agent Adam Hill has ordered 400 tickets from here to Pittsburgh for Decoration Day. As the Washington team play there on that day, it is probable that East Liverpool will turn out en masse to see Mercer play ball.

Who is He?

One of the councilmen when spoken to in behalf of the new 9 o'clock ordinance said he would not vote for it if his best friend on earth asked him to do so, and that any person who got up an ordinance like that lacked good sense. The councilman don't live on Thompson's Hill either.

A BABY TWO DAYS OLD

Is Now in the Hands of the Township Trustees.

CHILDREN'S HOME WON'T TAKE IT

The Child Will be Sent to the Infirmary if no One Will Adopt it in the City—The Father and Mother Aged 16 and 15 Respectively.

"Anyone wanting a bright baby two days old can get one by calling at the township trustees' office." This was the startling statement made by Trustee Lloyd to a NEWS REVIEW reporter this morning. The reporter at once tried to secure more information, but the official turned a deaf ear to his request.

From another source it was learned that on yesterday afternoon the attention of Trustees Albright and Beardmore was called to the fact that an illegitimate child had been born in the city on Thursday, and that there was no one to take care of it. Some of the relatives of the parents of the infant were the first people to let the trustees know the matter.

The trustees at once started out to investigate the truth of the story, and discovered that the father of the child is but 16 years of age while the mother is not yet 15. The trustees secured the baby last evening and placed it in good hands until they could find out what to do with it.

Word was at once sent to the Fairmount Children's home to see if it would be admitted there, but an answer was received at noon today stating that no children under 12 months of age were admitted to the home. If no person comes forward that is willing to take the child the trustees will be compelled to send it to the infirmary, as that is the only place left open.

The names of the father and mother of the little girl are both known, but are withheld from the public at the present time for sufficient reason, although they will be given later. The parents of the father and mother of the child are well known people of the city, and the publishing of the names will cause a decided sensation.

Owing to the extreme youthfulness of the parties no legal action will be taken.

Her scholars in a body accompanied the remains to the 9 o'clock train this morning, and there bid a last farewell to all that was mortal of their beloved teacher. The remains were taken to Kensington.

Superintendent Sanor, Principal Florence Updegraff, and a large delegation of teachers and pupils will attend the funeral at Kensington on Monday, and the flag at the Central school will float at half mast on the day of the funeral.

A TOUR OF INSPECTION.

The Street Committee are Looking After Damaged Property.

Councilmen Peake, Kent and Challis, the street committee, viewed the Houser property on Lisbon road yesterday, in order to ascertain the damage caused by the big rain. A number of cellars which had been flooded were also looked over, and the amount of loss ascertained. The committee will view the bridge at the intersection of Ravine street and Bradshaw avenue this afternoon. This old structure is in a dangerous condition, the timbers having become so rotten that drivers are reluctant to cross it with their teams. It is thought a stone bridge will be recommended to the board of improvements. The culvert at Minervastreet will also come in for a share of attention, and larger pipe recommended.

COMMENCING TO ARRIVE.

The Bridge People are Rapidly Forging Ahead.

From all appearances the bridge across the river will be completed at least three weeks ahead of time, as the pier men are that far ahead at present, and expect to have their work completed by the middle of June instead of July, the time limit set in the contract. The first two car loads of steel arrived this morning and are now lying on board the cars on the siding at the freight depot. The steel work will be shipped in here from now on just as fast as it can be put up by the contractors, and in a few weeks the doubtful people can see enough bridge to convince even them that it will be built.

AN INJUNCTION.

A Center Township Farmer Wants a Restraining Order.

LISBON, May 23.—A. Clark Thomas entered suit in court this morning asking for a restraining order against Thomas and Lettie Kelly, to enjoin them from entering upon his premises. Thomas owns two tracts of land in Center township, containing in all about 97 acres. Trouble recently arose between him and the defendants, who had always been in the habit of driving across his land, and he forbade them from doing so. Thomas claims his orders were unheeded, and at a number of times they have taken down his fences and driven across his land, committing constant acts of trespass, and doing irreparable damage.

Rosetta J. Rattery was this morning appointed administrator of the personal estate of Benjamin L. Wise, with $100 bond.

BURNED OUT.

The Telephone Station at Sistersville Entirely Destroyed.

McGhie & Moore today received a telegram from Howard Kerr announcing the fact that their telephone station at Sistersville had been entirely destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning. The office was located in one of the central blocks of the town, a large frame building, and it is presumed that the fire caught from one of the stores underneath. It was an impossibility to save anything, as there is as yet no fire company in the town, and the place burned like tinder, the building being entirely destroyed. The place will be an entire loss, as there was no insurance, the companies refusing to take any risks on the building.

FOR CORRUPT WORK.

Resolution Introduced to Impeach President Cleveland.

Special to NEWS REVIEW.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—M. W. Howard, the Populist representative from Alabama, introduced a resolution in the house today for the impeachment of President Cleveland. The grounds for impeachment are alleged illegal sale of bonds, illegal use of proceeds, corruption in politics, refusal to enforce the anti-trust law. A motion to reconsider received only two or three votes.

A NEW LINE

To be Erected by the Bell Telephone Company.

The Central District and Printing Telephone company received a car load of poles yesterday, which will be used in erecting a telephone line between the city and possessions of the Ohio Valley Gas company, across the river. The poles will be placed in position at once, and the river will be spanned by the wires instead of under water as at present. After the new bridge is finished the line will be changed to cross that structure.

Making Complaints.

Complaints have been made to the township trustees by the supervisor of District No. 3, who has charge of the Calcutta road, that people are in the habit of throwing tin cans on the road, interfering greatly with the working of the road machine. The township trustees will put signs up at once, ordering them to cease the practice or they will be arrested. The watering trough at Smith's will also be fixed by Monday or Tuesday under the supervision of Trustees Beardmore and Albright.

Sporting Notes.

The big city roller was run over the West End ball ground this morning. None of the ball players from here were needed at Cumberland or Toronto today.

Ticket Agent Adam Hill has ordered 400 tickets from here to Pittsburgh for Decoration Day. As the Washington team play there on that day, it is probable that East Liverpool will turn out en masse to see Mercer play ball.

Who is He?

One of the councilmen when spoken to in behalf of the new 9 o'clock ordinance said he would not vote for it. If his best friend on earth asked him to do so, and that any person who got up an ordinance like that lacked good sense. The councilman don't live on Thompson's Hill either.

A BABY TWO DAYS OLD

Is Now in the Hands of the Township Trustees.

CHILDREN'S HOME WON'T TAKE IT

The Child Will be Sent to the Infirmary if No One Will Adopt it in the City—The Father and Mother Aged 16 and 15 Respectively.

"Anyone wanting a bright baby two days old can get one by calling at the township trustees' office." This was the startling statement made by Trustee Lloyd to a News Review reporter this morning. The reporter at once tried to secure more information, but the official turned a deaf ear to his request.

From another source it was learned that on yesterday afternoon the attention of Trustees Albright and Beardmore was called to the fact that an illegitimate child had been born in the city on Thursday, and that there was no one to take care of it. Some of the relatives of the parents of the infant were the first people to let the trustees know the matter.

The trustees at once started out to investigate the truth of the story, and discovered that the father of the child is but 16 years of age while the mother is not yet 15. The trustees secured the baby last evening and placed it in good hands until they could find out what to do with it.

Word was at once sent to the Fairmount Children's home to see if it would be admitted there, but an answer was received at noon today stating that no children under 12 months of age were admitted to the home. If no person comes forward that is willing to take the child the trustees will be compelled to send it to the infirmary, as that is the only place left open.

The names of the father and mother of the little girl are both known, but are withheld from the public at the present time for sufficient reason, although they will be given later. The parents of the father and mother of the child are well known people of the city, and the publishing of the names will cause a decided sensation.

Owing to the extreme youthfulness of the parties no legal action will be taken.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., SATURDAY, MAY 23.

For President, WILLIAM MCKINLEY, Of Ohio.

THE BARNSTORMERS.

The barnstormers, accompanied by No. 4, are taking into serious consideration the publication of a poem entitled "Some things we do not know." It has been suggested that the volume be put out in sections, covering a limit of several centuries.

SO-CALLED SCIENTISTS.

The so-called scientists who talk learnedly and wisely (?) about a plan of salvation invented and patented by themselves, aside from the salvation secured, through the mercy of God, on Calvary's mount, are blatant humbugs and charlatans, unworthy of credence, an imposition upon the public and unfit for honest men and women to associate with.

VERY SAD.

The death of Miss Anna Bentley has caused deep regret in educational circles of East Liverpool, and in fact wherever deceased was known. She was an estimable Christian lady, beloved by all who had the honor and pleasure of her acquaintance. The members of her family have the heartfelt sympathy of this community. She is at rest. Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord.

MCKINLEY QUAY.

What meant the late interview between our next president and Matthew Stanley Quay? Is Matthew after something for himself or friends? Has he recognized the fact that he is in the field, but not in the fight? Has he made arrangements to remain on deck as a candidate for the first few ballots, in case McKinley is not nominated on the first ballot, and then throw all of Pennsylvania to our choice? These are pertinent questions, and Matthew Stanley will confer a favor on us by answering them at once, by phone. Selah.

ODD FELLOWS.

The order had a lively time in Pennsylvania yesterday, when discussion occurred over the action of the grand lodge last year at Atlantic City, in deciding that "no saloonkeeper, bartender or professional gambler will be eligible to membership in the order." One past grand master created a scene when he declared that the saloonkeepers and bartenders are just as good as ministers of the gospel. It was a great break on the official's part, and brought down hot condemnation on his devoted head. He should have said "some so-called ministers of the gospel."

PLUCK.

'Tis a good article to possess. Do the right because it is right, and then have the courage of your convictions. Don't become faint-hearted simply because affairs are not going smoothly. Face your difficulty, my man—face it and fight it and it will cease to be a block in your way. If you have enemies who are resorting to petty meanness and low cunning against you, don't attempt to use their weapons, for they are boomerangs, which oftentimes inflict injury upon the user thereof. Use the weapons of right and truth and stand courageously by your colors, and all true men and women will back you up.

TRUE MANHOOD.

How to no man as your superior in true manhood, unless he be a consistent Christian, showing to the world, by his walk and conversation, by his every act, that he is an earnest, consistent follower of the meek and lowly Nazarene. (Sometimes because a man possesses riches, oftentimes secured through ways which are dark and tricks that are vain) is no reason why you should consider him a better man than yourself, or anywhere near your equal. The honest mechanic, working day by day at his occupation, and meeting all obligations made by him, loving and trusting God and doing His bidding, has no superior on this earth, and has no need or right to humble himself to any one but the Master—the giver of all good gifts. Be courteous to one and all. Courtesy and kindness on your part oftentimes prove a grandly good investment. Don't be narrow-minded, bigoted, petty, malicious or mean. Pay your debts, if at all possible. Owe no man anything save good will, and you can look the president in the face and call yourself as good a man as himself—yea, oftentimes a better man.

PER CAPITA TAX LEVIED.

Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., Arranged to Pay for the Home at Springfield.

LIMA, O., May 23.—The grand lodge of Odd Fellows discussed the matter of redistributing the state at their session. The committee had reported in favor of a new system which would cut the expenses of installing officers of lodges in all parts of the state about one-half. The scheme was adopted. Representative Cyrus Huling of Columbus made a report for the home trustees, that money for the proposed new building at Springfield be paid by a per capita tax of 50 cents, payable in 1898. The plan was adopted. Charters were granted for Rebekah lodges at Bellpoint, and Kingston Center, Delaware county, Jerome, Union county, and Vera, Logan county.

The Rebekah lodge at Watkins, Union county, petitioned for return of their charter money on account of the burning of their hall. It was granted. The petition for a Rebekah lodge at Pataskala was granted. A charter was also granted to the state assembly of Rebekah, which has been working a number of years without one. The bonds of Grand Treasurer L. W. Sherwood, in the sum of $30,000, and of Grand Secretary Lyman, in the sum of $10,000, were approved.

THE NEW EXCISE LAW.

Largest Gross Receipts Returned So Far Reach $218,937.

COLUMBUS, May 23.—The largest gross receipts yet returned under the new excise law are those of the Central Ohio Natural Gas and Fuel company of Columbus, the statement of which has been filed in the office of the auditor of state. This company reports its gross receipts for the year at $218,937.75.

Other statements filed are as follows: Central Gas company, Woodfield, $3,000; Citizens' Electric Light and Power company, Upper Sandusky, $5,535.90; Springfield District Telegraph company, $4,336.04; Fountain City Oil and Gas company, Bryan gross receipts, $220; Ashland Gas and Electric company, $13,428.07; Galion Gas Light company, $6,672.82.

A new question arose in the application of the new excise tax law in connection with the filing of the return of the Cleveland and Chagrin Falls Electric Railway company. The company says that it was not in operation last year, and therefore had no gross receipts which the law compels them to report. The tax is for the privilege of doing business this year, but for convenience it is based upon the gross receipts of last year.

The appraising board is not authorized to use any other standard.

A Cleveland Merchant Dead.

CLEVELAND, May 23.—Word has been received here of the death of Mr. Henry W. Childs at Washington. Mr. Childs was senior member of the late firm of Childs, Groff & Co., whose failure three months ago caused such a profound sensation. It is believed that death was caused by worry arising from the failure of the firm. Childs, Groff & Co. were extensive wholesale boot and shoe dealers, and their failure was due to the embezzlement of a junior member of the firm.

Harrison and Bride at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, May 23.—There is no diminution of interest in the concerts of the May Festival association. Their social eclat has been heightened by the unheralded presence of ex-President Benjamin Harrison and his bride.

BRIEF STATE EVENTS.

The Dayton insane asylum is threatened with a water famine.

Elmer Brannigan got 20 years for wife murder at Columbus.

Company A., O. N. G., at Cleveland, has been disbanded for insubordination. The Standard Oil company is after oil leases in Paint township, near London.

The young peach orchard of Farmer Rogers, near Wooster, was robbed of every tree.

Robbers raided Amanda, near Middleton, and broke into four houses. They secured very little.

Marion Williams, a farmhand, was clubbed to death by bartender Gus Baker at Cedarville, it is said, in self-defense.

Roy Smith, an 8-year-old colored boy, was run over and instantly killed by an electric car in front of the Chittenden hotel, Columbus.

Mrs. Mary E. Harris, a widow of Bellbrook, near Xenia, is sued Lewis Kemp, a widower, for $10,000 for breach of promise of marriage.

Sebastian Conrad, working on ex-County Commissioner Burgess' farm, at Collins, near Norwalk, was drowned in a pond while washing sheep.

The subject of good roads is receiving considerable agitation at present through the efforts of the Montgomery county good roads committee.

Perry Weidner, money order clerk at the Dayton postoffice, was appointed chief clerk in the quartermaster's department, Soldiers' home, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of J. W. Leonard.

The miners of Perry, Athens and Hocking counties held a large and enthusiastic mass meeting at Shawnee. The object was to abolish the present lease and co-operative systems now in force.

Magistrate Andrews of Columbus decided the suit of Mrs. S. A. Gehring against Prof. William Seymour, to recover $5 which the plaintiff said she paid Seymour for three lessons in hypnotism.

Mrs. James Pennell, residing close to Big Plain, near London, has run away with Henry Potts of this city, who recently obtained a divorce from his wife, leaving four small children and her husband.

MCKINLEY MUM AS QUAY

Regarding That Private Conference at Canton.

CORDIAL GREETING AND FAREWELL

The Two Distinguished Gentlemen Evidently On The Very Best of Terms.

The Ex-Governor Now In Cleveland and the Senator In Pittsburgh Today.

CLEVELAND, May 23.—Ex-Governor McKinley is in the city to spend Sunday with Mrs. McKinley, who is visiting here.

When interrogated regarding Senator Quay's visit to him at Canton, all he would say, was:

"I had a very pleasant visit from Senator Quay. The purpose of his visit or the conclusion reached I will not discuss. The last time I saw Mr. Quay was about a year ago, at Savannah. He was returning from a fishing trip to Florida, and we came north together."

The Leader, which better represents McKinley perhaps than any other newspaper in the United States, publishes today in substance the following upon the visit of Quay to McKinley:

"Quay came to Canton, not as the bearer of messages from any man or group of men, but as the leader of the Republican party in Pennsylvania. He did not come, as he facetiously remarked in Washington, to question McKinley about his attitude on the money question. He was a Republican leader visiting the man who will certainly be the nominee of the Republican party for president. The giving of offices was not considered, nor was the campaign for the nomination discussed, because every Republican knows that campaign to be practically ended. One thing they did discuss was the campaign which McKinley will enter against the Democratic candidate for president. The conference was most pleasant and cordial on both sides. The visit of Quay was such as will undoubtedly be made by many other Republican leaders both before and after the St. Louis convention."

A Pittsburgh special says: Senator Quay arrived in the city today, having spent the night at his home in Beaver, after his visit to Major McKinley in Canton. He will be here over Monday and return to Washington Tuesday. Senator Quay absolutely refuses to divulge the result of his conference with Major McKinley.

A Canton special says: Senator Quay was accompanied here by Attorney J. Hay Brown of Lancaster. Major McKinley was at the depot with a carriage to meet them. They greeted each other most cordially and the party was then driven to the McKinley home.

There Senator Quay and Major McKinley were in private conference for about two hours, nobody being with them. After the conference a number of callers were presented to Senator Quay. Luncheon was then served, the party being one of four—Senator Quay, Governor McKinley, Mr. Brown and George B. Freese, editor of the Canton Repository. The conversation was entirely social in its character, no reference to politics being made. Major McKinley then accompanied his guest back to the depot, where Senator Quay took the train eastward.

Their parting at the station would indicate most cordial and hearty relations and clearly manifested to onlookers that the visit had been of a most agreeable and satisfactory nature.

An explanation readily accepted here is that Quay would like to be national chairman again this year, and that this was the main object of the visit. Neither here nor at the campaign headquarters at Cleveland is any intimation given out as to how such an arrangement would suit the major and Mr. Hanna. But with a large number of Canton people, who earnestly want Major McKinley elected, such an arrangement would be acceptable.

THE MISSISSIPPI RISING.

Thousand of Acres Flooded In Illinois and Missouri.

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—The river is rising steadily because of the heavy rainstorms which have filled its tributaries in this and adjoining states. No damage in this vicinity has been done yet, except the overflow of low lands skirting the river. At Alton, Ill., the flood prospect is becoming alarming.

There the river is fairly out of its banks and thousands of lowlands are being flooded with their growing crops. Tenants are moving to higher ground. There is a rapid rise in the Mississippi river at Cairo, Ill., the gauge showing a rise of nearly 3 feet in 24 hours.

The B. & O. Sued For $8,000.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., May 23.—Four suits for $1,999.99 each have been brought in the circuit court here against Receivers Owen and Murray of Baltimore and Ohio railroad. The plaintiffs are Mrs. Lucy Haman and J. A. Gordon. The petition alleges that Mrs. Haman was traveling from this city on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and procured a ticket for herself, but none for two children in her care, aged 6 and 8. It also alleges that fare was demanded for the children, and when she said she had no money Conductor Estep took the children and pushed them off a moving train. She alleges that she had to jump off or be carried on. She alleges that the children were terribly injured. She also alleges rough treatment to herself.

Baptist Missionary Officers.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., May 23.—The election of officers of the American Baptist Missionary union resulted in the selection of Rev. Henry F. Colby, D. D., of Ohio as president, and Chester W. Kingsley of Massachusetts and Rev. D. D. MacLaurin of Michigan, vice presidents, with Rev. Henry S. Burroughs, D. D., of Maine as recording secretary.

Successful Expedition to Cuba.

PHILADELPHIA, May 23.—A private dispatch received in this city states that the steamship Aurada, which left New York on May 19, has landed on Cuban soil all the men and ammunition she carried, and that the expedition was entirely successful. The sender of the dispatch was a member of the party aboard the ship.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE.

The Present Waiting Condition Is Not In Reality Stagnation.

NEW YORK, May 23.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly Review of Trade, issued today, says: The waiting condition, which seems to some people nothing better than stagnation, still continues. But there is a difference. Thousands of orders and contracts are merely deferred because they can be more safely given a little later.

There is nothing exciting in the speculative market for exportable products, and the stories about damage to wheat have been numerous; but the general belief regarding the future supply is fairly reflected in the decline of 1.62 cents per bushel. The home market fails entirely to respond to short crop stories, for it is known that western reports indicate a crop exceeding last year's.

If the output of pigiron were always a reliable barometer of business conditions, as some suppose, the returns of furnaces in blast May 1, according to The Iron Age, 188,319 tons against 167,451 April 1 would be convincing. But the increase of stocks unsold since Jan 1 has been 243,915 tons, and this, deducted from the output of furnaces, leaves 2,976,348 tons for four months, which is certainly in excess of the actual consumption, because the stocks of the great steel companies are not included in the statement. Since the steel pool was formed these stocks have doubtless increased largely. There is scarcely any improvement in the demand for finished products, though the Bar association has become strong enough to enable makers of steel bars to get a slightly higher price.

The demand for nails is so light that a reduction of price is expected; the demand for structural work is less urgent, but yet orders are encouraging in number, although new contracts are being received at Pittsburgh, and the ablest observers of the iron market notice that there is glaring incongruity between pig at $12.50, billets at $20.25 and steel rails at $28.

Sales of wool have been 2,648,300 pounds for the week at the three chief markets, and for three weeks ending May 21, 9,187,400 pounds, of which 4,882,300 pounds were domestic, against 15,948,350 pounds in the same weeks of 1892, of which 8,601,700 were domestic.

Failures for the week have been 227 in the United States, against 207 last year, and 26 in Canada, against 23 last year.

TEN PEOPLE KILLED.

More Details of the Cyclone in Oklahoma Territory.

GUTHRIE, O. T., May 23.—Further advice regarding the disastrous cyclone and waterspout which passed over this section say immense damage was done. At Edmond 20 houses were demolished and two persons, Harvey Rich and his daughter, were killed.

At White Eagle, 30 miles north, three cyclones formed within the space of one hour and swept toward the Osage country. Twelve houses were demolished and 40 or 50 head of stock were killed in the vicinity of White Eagle.

At Black Bear, John Rodgers and wife were killed by falling timbers, while a farmer named White was killed, and all the members of his family injured by their house being blown on them.

At Cushing five persons were killed. They are: Harris McIntyre and daughter Julia, Jennie Wilmer, Peter Davis and son Frank Davis.

Two Firefighters Perished.

MONROE, N. B., May 23.—Two men have lost their lives at Dunsinane while fighting forest fires, which are raging at many points along the Intercolonial railroad. The men were Peter Pollet and Joseph Doyle.

The Weather.

Generally fair and cooler; light to fresh northerly winds.

HIT THE BILL HARD.

Both Sherman and Hill Denounced Butler's Measure.

AN ATTEMPT AT REPUDIATION

By Cutting Off the Only Means Existing For the Repeal of Greenbacks—Sherman, George and Gray Urge a Bill to Increase the Revenues.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The bill to prohibit the issue of bonds is now before the senate with the prospect of a final vote on it next Monday. The obstruction to the measure was withdrawn and by the decisive vote of 34 to 20 the senate adopted the motion of Mr. Butler, author of the bill, to proceed with it.

The debate on the measure was at times very animated. Hill and Sherman attacked the bill as a barefaced attempt at repudiation by an indirect cutting off of the only means existing for the repeal of the greenbacks. Mr. Gray, Mr. Hawley and Mr. Lodge spoke in opposition to the bill and Mr. Mills (Tex.), Mr. Butler, Mr. Allen, Mr. Stewart and Mr. Clarke for it.

Mr. Sherman argued that the law requiring the redemption of notes in coin was a contract. The United States could not avoid that contract without dishonor. This was the first time in the history of the country that an attempt had been made to violate that contract.

"I denounce it as a repudiation of the public debt," exclaimed Mr. Sherman. "But, thank God, the measure cannot become a law, while the house of representatives and the president are on the right side."

The tariff question came in for incidental consideration, and Senators Sherman, George and Gray expressed the view that it would be a disgrace if congress adjourned without enacting a law to increase the revenues. When Mr. Butler asked for a vote on the anti-bond bill Monday Mr. Hill, from whom the chief opposition was expected, gave his assent. An agreement was not reached, however, the understanding being that it would be made later for a vote Monday.

PHILLIPS' BILL CROWDED OUT.

The River and Harbor Bill Takes Precedence In the House.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The Phillips' labor commission bill, which ought to have come to a vote in the house under the special order, was completely crowded out by the conference reports on the river and harbor and sundry civil bills. The bill will now go over until next week.

The conference report on the river and harbor bill, which reported an agreement on all the items save that relating to the Santa Monica and San Pedro harbors, Cal., was made the basis of a very bitter attack on the bill by Messrs. Hepburn (Rep., Ia.) and Dockery (Dem., Mo.). It was adopted, 189 to 56. Hooker, Herman and Catchings were reappointed conferees.

No Charges Against Terrell.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Minister Terrell, since the statement made by W. E. Dodge of New York that nothing but praise was said of him by the Rev. H. O. Dwight and other gentlemen who visited the president, has declined to express himself further regarding that committee. No charges whatever have been made against Mr. Terrell.

Agreed on River and Harbor Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The conferees on the river and harbor bill have practically agreed upon a compromise on the Southern California item. This was all that delayed the bill.

Agreed to by the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The river and harbor conference report has been agreed to by the senate.

THE CZAR RECEIVES AMERICANS.

U. S. Minister Breckinridge and Others Given Special Audiences.

MOSCOW, May 23.—The czar has received in private audience the United States minister, Mr. Breckinridge, and then received the special envoys of the United States sent to represent the government of the United States at the coronation together. These included General A. McD. McCook and his brother, Aid de Camp Scriven, Commander Bronson and Major J. W. Patzki of the special embassy and Rear Admiral T. O. Selfridge, in command of the Mediterranean squadron, who brought his flagship, the Minneapolis, to Cronstadt to attend the coronation as the naval representative of the United States.

Mr. Breckinridge, the United States minister; Mr. H. H. Pierce, secretary of the United States legation, and the other civil representatives, were for the first time at the Russian court the full civil dress prescribed for those who are not allowed to wear the official uniform. This dress consisted of an evening coat with plain metal buttons, a white vest, knee breeches, and black silk stockings and no ornament.

The United States minister, the special envoys of their staff, also attended a reception given by the Russian foreign minister, Prince Lobonoff-Rostovsky.

Next week Mr. Breckinridge will give a dinner to distinguished American visitors to the coronation, and later, probably on June 3, will give a reception, inviting the Russian princes and foreign princes attendant upon the coronation, and the foreign ambassadors and about 1,000 others.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., SATURDAY, MAY 23.

For President, WILLIAM MCKINLEY, of Ohio.

THE BARNSTORMERS.

The barnstormers, accompanied by No. 4, are taking into serious consideration the publication of a poem entitled "Some things we do not know." It has been suggested that the volume be put out in sections, covering a limit of several centuries.

SO-CALLED SCIENTISTS.

The so-called scientists who talk learnedly and wisely (?) about a plan of salvation invented and patented by themselves, aside from the salvation secured, through the mercy of God, on Calvary's mount, are blatant humbugs and charlatans, unworthy of credence, an imposition upon the public and unfit for honest men and women to associate with.

VERY SAD.

The death of Miss Anna Bentley has caused deep regret in educational circles of East Liverpool, and in fact wherever deceased was known. She was an estimable Christian lady, beloved by all who had the honor and pleasure of her acquaintance. The members of her family have the heartfelt sympathy of this community. She is at rest. Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord.

MCKINLEY-QUAY.

What meant the late interview between our next president and Matthew Stanley Quay? Is Matthew after something for himself or friends? Has he recognized the fact that he is in the field, but not in the fight? Has he made arrangements to remain on deck as a candidate for the first few ballots, in case McKinley is not nominated on the first ballot, and then throw all of Pennsylvania to our choice? These are pertinent questions, and Matthew Stanley will confer a favor on us by answering them at once, by phone. Selah.

ODD FELLOWS.

The order had a lively time in Pennsylvania yesterday, when discussion occurred over the action of the grand lodge last year at Atlantic City, in deciding that "no saloonkeeper, bartender or professional gambler will be eligible to membership in the order." One past grand master created a scene when he declared that the saloonkeepers and bartenders are just as good as ministers of the gospel. It was a great break on the official's part, and brought down hot condemnation on his devoted head. He should have said "some so-called ministers of the gospel."

PLUCK.

'Tis a good article to possess. Do the right because it is right, and then have the courage of your convictions. Don't become faint-hearted simply because affairs are not going smoothly. Face your difficulty, my man—face it and fight it and it will cease to be a block in your way. If you have enemies who are resorting to petty meanness and low cunning against you, don't attempt to use their weapons, for they are boomerangs, which oftentimes inflict injury upon the user thereof. Use the weapons of right and truth and stand courageously by your colors, and all true men and women will back you up.

TRUE MANHOOD.

How to no man as your superior in true manhood, unless he be a consistent Christian, showing to the world, by his walk and conversation, by his every act, that he is an earnest, consistent follower of the meek and lowly Nazarene. Simply because a man possesses riches, (ofttimes secured through ways which are dark and tricks that are vain) is no reason why you should consider him a better man than yourself, or anywhere near your equal. The honest mechanic, working day by day at his occupation, and meeting all obligations made by him, loving and trusting God and doing His bidding, has no superior on this earth, and has no need or right to humble himself to any one but the Master—the giver of all good gifts. Be courteous to one and all. Courtesy and kindness on your part oftentimes prove a grandly good investment. Don't be narrow-minded, bigoted, petty, malicious or mean. Pay your debts, if at all possible. Owe no man anything save good will, and you can look the president in the face and call yourself as good a man as himself—yes, oftentimes a better man.

PER CAPITA TAX LEVIED.

Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., Arranged to Pay For the Home at Springfield.

LIMA, O., May 23.—The grand lodge of Odd Fellows discussed the matter of redistricting the state at their session. The committee had reported in favor of a new system which would cut the expenses of installing officers of lodges in all parts of the state about one-half. The scheme was adopted. Representative Cyrus Halling of Columbus made a report for the home trustees, that money for the proposed new building at Springfield be raised by a per capita tax of 50 cents, payable in 1898. The plan was adopted. Charters were granted for Rebekah lodges at Bellpoint, and Kingston Center, Delaware county, Jerome, Union county, and Vera, Logan county.

The Rebekah lodge at Watkins, Union county, petitioned for return of their charter money on account of the burning of their hall. It was granted. The petition for a Rebekah lodge at Pataskala was granted. A charter was also granted to the state assembly of Rebekah, which has been working a number of years without one. The bonds of Grand Treasurer L. W. Sherwood, in the sum of $30,000, and of Grand Secretary Lyman, in the sum of $10,000, were approved.

THE NEW EXCISE LAW.

Largest Gross Receipts Returned So Far Reach $218,937.

COLUMBUS, May 23.—The largest gross receipts yet returned under the new excise law are those of the Central Ohio Natural Gas and Fuel company of Columbus, the statement of which has been filed in the office of the auditor of state. This company reports its gross receipts for the year at $218,937.75.

Other statements filed are as follows: Central Gas company, Woodfield, $3,000; Citizens Electric Light and Power company, Upper Sandusky, $5,535.90; Springfield District Telegraph company, $4,336.04; Fountain City Oil and Gas company, Bryan gross receipts, $220; Ashland Gas and Electric company, $13,428.07; Galion Gas Light company, $6,672.82.

A new question arose in the application of the new excise tax law in connection with the filing of the return of the Cleveland and Chagrin Falls Electric Railway company. The company says that it was not in operation last year, and therefore had no gross receipts which the law compels them to report. The tax is for the privilege of doing business this year, but for convenience it is based upon the gross receipts of last year.

The appraising board is not authorized to use any other standard.

A Cleveland Merchant Dead.

CLEVELAND, May 23.—Word has been received here of the death of Mr. Henry W. Childs at Washington. Mr. Childs was senior member of the late firm of Childs, Groff & Co., whose failure three months ago caused such a profound sensation. It is believed that death was caused by worry arising from the failure of the firm. Childs, Groff & Co. were extensive wholesale boot and shoe dealers, and their failure was due to the embezzlement of a junior member of the firm.

Harrison and Bride at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, May 23.—There is no diminution of interest in the concerts of the May Festival association. Their social eclat has been heightened by the unheralded presence of ex-President Benjamin Harrison and his bride.

MCKINLEY MUM AS QUAY

Regarding That Private Conference at Canton.

CORDIAL GREETING AND FAREWELL

The Two Distinguished Gentlemen Evidently On The Very Best of Terms. The Ex-Governor Now In Cleveland and the Senator In Pittsburgh Today.

CLEVELAND, May 23.—Ex-Governor McKinley is in the city to spend Sunday with Mrs. McKinley, who is visiting here.

When interrogated regarding Senator Quay's visit to him at Canton, all he would say was:

"I had a very pleasant visit from Senator Quay. The purpose of his visit or the conclusion reached I will not discuss. The last time I saw Mr. Quay was about a year ago, at Savannah. He was returning from a fishing trip to Florida, and we came north together."

The leader, which better represents McKinley perhaps than any other newspaper in the United States, publishes today in substance the following upon the visit of Quay to McKinley:

"Quay came to Canton, not as the bearer of messages from any man or group of men, but as the leader of the Republican party in Pennsylvania. He did not come, as he facetiously remarked in Washington, to question McKinley about his attitude on the money question. He was a Republican leader visiting the man who will certainly be the nominee of the Republican party for president. The giving of offices was not considered, nor was the campaign for the nomination discussed, because every Republican knows that campaign to be practically ended. One thing they did discuss was the campaign which McKinley will enter against the Democratic candidate for president. The conference was most pleasant and cordial on both sides. The visit of Quay was such as will undoubtedly be made by many other Republican leaders both before and after the St. Louis convention."

A Pittsburgh special says: Senator Quay arrived in the city today, having spent the night at his home in Beaver, after his visit to Major McKinley in Canton. He will be here over Monday and return to Washington Tuesday. Senator Quay absolutely refuses to divulge the result of his conference with Major McKinley.

A Canton special says: Senator Quay was accompanied here by Attorney J. Hay Brown of Lancaster. Major McKinley was at the depot with a carriage to meet them. They greeted each other most cordially and the party was then driven to the McKinley home. There Senator Quay and Major McKinley were in private conference for about two hours, nobody being with them. After the conference a number of callers were presented to Senator Quay. Luncheon was then served, the party being one of four—Senator Quay, Governor McKinley, Mr. Brown and George B. Freese, editor of the Canton Repository. The conversation was entirely social in its character, no reference to politics being made. Major McKinley then accompanied his guest back to the depot, where Senator Quay took the train eastward.

Their parting at the station would indicate most cordial and hearty relations and clearly manifested to onlookers that the visit had been of a most agreeable and satisfactory nature. An explanation readily accepted here is that Quay would like to be national chairman again this year, and that this was the main object of the visit. Neither here nor at the campaign headquarters at Cleveland is any intimation given out as to how such an arrangement would suit the major and Mr. Hanna. But with a large number of Canton people, who earnestly want Major McKinley elected, such an arrangement would be acceptable.

THE MISSISSIPPI RISING.

Thousand of Acres Flooded in Illinois and Missouri.

St. LOUIS, May 23.—The river is rising steadily because of the heavy rainstorms which have filled its tributaries in this and adjoining states. No damage in this vicinity has been done yet, except the overflow of low lands skirting the river. At Alton, Ill., the flood prospect is becoming alarming.

There the river is fairly out of its banks and thousands of lowlands are being flooded with their growing crops. Tenants are moving to higher ground. There is a rapid rise in the Mississippi river at Cairo, Ill., the gauge showing a rise of nearly 3 feet in 24 hours.

The B. & O. Sued For $8,000.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., May 23.—Four suits for $1,999.99 each have been brought in the circuit court here against Receivers Cowen and Murray of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. The plaintiffs are Mrs. Lucy Haman and J. A. Gordon. The petition alleges that Mrs. Haman was traveling from this city on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and procured a ticket for herself, but none for two children in her care, aged 6 and 8. It also alleges that fare was demanded for the children, and when she said she had no money Conductor Estep took the children and pushed them off a moving train. She alleged that she had to jump off or be carried on. She alleges that the children were terribly injured. She also alleges rough treatment to herself.

Baptist Missionary Officers.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., May 23.—The election of officers of the American Baptist Missionary union resulted in the selection of Rev. Henry F. Colby, D. D., of Ohio as president, and Chester W. Kingsley of Massachusetts and Chester D. D. MacLaurin of Michigan, vice presidents, with Rev. Henry S. Burroughs, D. D., of Maine as recording secretary.

Successful Expedition to Cuba.

PHILADELPHIA, May 23.—A private dispatch received in this city states that the steamship Laura, which left New York on May 19, has landed on Cuban soil all the men and ammunition she carried, and that the expedition was entirely successful. The sender of the dispatch was a member of the party aboard the ship.

The Present Waiting Condition Is Not In Reality Stagnation.

NEW YORK, May 23.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly Review of Trade, issued today, says: The waiting condition, which seems to some people nothing better than stagnation, still continues. But there is a difference. Thousands of orders and contracts are merely deferred because they can be more safely given a little later.

There is nothing exciting in the speculative market for exportable products, and the stories about damage to wheat have been numerous; but the general belief regarding the future supply is fairly reflected in the decline of 1.62 cents per bushel. The home market fails entirely to respond to short crop stories, for it is known that western reports indicate a crop exceeding last year's.

If the output of pigiron were always a reliable barometer of business conditions, as some suppose, the returns of furnaces in blast May 1 according to the Iron Age, 188,319 tons against 167,451 April 1 would be convincing. But the increase of stocks unsold since Jan 1 has been 243,915 tons, and this, deducted from the output of furnaces, leaves 2,976,348 tons for four months, which is certainly in excess of the actual consumption, because the stocks of the great steel companies are not included in the statement. Since the steel belt pool was formed these stocks have doubtless increased largely. There is scarcely any improvement in the demand for finished products, though the Bar association has become strong enough to enable makers of steel bars to get a slightly higher price.

The demand for nails is so slight that a reduction of price is expected; the demand for structural work is less urgent, but yet orders are encouraging in number, although new contracts are being received at Pittsburgh, and the ablest observers of the iron market notice that there is glaring incongruity between pig at $12.50, billets at $20.25 and steel rails at $28.

Sales of wool have been 2,648,300 pounds for the week at the three chief markets, and for three weeks ending May 21, 9,187,400 pounds, of which 4,882,300 pounds were domestic, against 15,948,350 pounds in the same weeks of 1892, of which 8,601,700 were domestic. Failures for the week have been 227 in the United States, against 207 last year, and 26 in Canada, against 23 last year.

HIT THE BILL HARD.

Both Sherman and Hill De-nounced Butler's Measure.

AN ATTEMPT AT REPUDIATION

By Cutting Off the Only Means Existing For the Repeal of Greenbacks—Sherman, George and Gray Urge a Bill to Increase the Revenues.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The bill to prohibit the issue of bonds is now before the senate with the prospect of a final vote on it next Monday. The objection to the measure was withdrawn and by the decisive vote of 34 to 20 the senate adopted the motion of Mr. Butler, author of the bill, to proceed with it.

The debate on the measure was at times very animated. Hill and Sherman attacked the bill as a barefaced attempt at repudiation by an indirect cutting off of the only means existing for the repeal of the greenbacks. Mr. Gray, Mr. Hawley and Mr. Lodge spoke in opposition to the bill and Mr. Mills (Tex.), Mr. Butler, Mr. Allen, Mr. Stewart and Mr. Clarke for it.

Mr. Sherman argued that the law requiring the redemption of notes in coin was a contract. The United States could not avoid that contract without dishonor. This was the first time in the history of the country that an attempt had been made to violate that contract.

"I denounce it as a repudiation of the public debt," exclaimed Mr. Sherman. "But, thank God, the measure cannot become a law, while the house of representatives and the president are on the right side."

The tariff question came in for incidental consideration, and Senators Sherman, George and Gray expressed the view that it would be a disgrace if congress adjourned without enacting a law to increase the revenues. When Mr. Butler asked for a vote on the anti-bond bill Monday Mr. Hill, from whom the chief opposition was expected, gave his assent. An agreement was not reached, however, the understanding being that it would be made later for a vote Monday.

PHILLIPS' BILL CROWDED OUT.

The River and Harbor Bill Takes Precedence In the House.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The Phillips' labor commission bill, which ought to have come to a vote in the house under the special order, was completely crowded out by the conference reports on the river and harbor and sundry civil bills. The bill will now go over until next week.

The conference report on the river and harbor bill, which reported an agreement on all the items save that relating to the Santa Monica and San Pedro harbors, Cal., was made the basis of a very bitter attack on the bill by Messrs. Hepburn (Rep., Ia.) and Dockery (Dem., Mo.). It was adopted, 159 to 96. Hooker, Herman and Catchings were reappointed conferees.

No Charges Against Terrell.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Minister Terrell, since the statement made by W. E. Dodge of New York that nothing but praise was said of him by the Rev. H. O. Dwight and other gentlemen who visited the president, has declined to express himself further regarding that committee. No charges whatever have been made against Mr. Terrell.

Agreed on River and Harbor Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The conference on the river and harbor bill have practically agreed upon a compromise on the Southern California item. This was all that delayed the bill.

Agreed to by the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The river and harbor conference report has been agreed to by the senate.

THE CZAR RECEIVES AMERICANS.

U. S. Minister Breckinridge and Others Given Special Audiences.

MOSCOW, May 23.—The czar has received in private audience the United States minister, Mr. Breckinridge, and then received the special envoys of the United States sent to represent the government of the United States at the coronation together. These included General A. McD. Cook and his brother, Aid de Camp Scriven, Commander Bronson and Major J. W. Patzki of the special embassy and Rear Admiral T. O. Selfridge, in command of the Mediterranean squadron, who brought his flagship, the Minneapolis, to Cronstadt to attend the coronation as the naval representative of the United States.

Mr. Breckinridge, the United States minister, Mr. H. H. Pierce, secretary of the United States legation, and the other civil representatives, wore for the first time at the Russian court the full civil dress prescribed for those who are not allowed to wear the official uniform. This dress consisted of an evening coat with plain metal buttons, a white vest, knee breeches, and black silk stockings and no ornaments.

The United States minister, the special envoys of their staff, also attended a reception given by the Russian foreign minister, Prince Lobonoff-Rostovsky.

Next week Mr. Breckinridge will give a dinner to distinguished American visitors to the coronation, and later, probably on June 3, will give a reception, inviting the coronation and foreign princes attendant upon the coronation, and the foreign ambassadors and about 1,000 others.

Mr. Clifford, the new historian, was the only colored editor present.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

A Wrangle Over Young People's Society Report.

STRICT SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

Bicycle Riding on Sunday, the Sunday Newspaper and Other Similar Matters Received Hard Raps—Chairmen of Some of the Standing Committees Appointed.

SARATOGA, May 23.—The Presbyterian general assembly broke up in confusion in the midst of the vote on resolutions of the special committee on the relations of young people's societies to the church. Resolutions had been adopted directing that a "statement of relations" be sent to the separate societies to be read by them, and reaffirming the action of the assembly of 1893. The former recommendation was reached only after a long discussion, and under the operation of the previous question. Just at the hour of adjournment a motion was made to strike out the other recommendations of the committee and to discharge it. Action on this motion was only prevented by the abrupt announcement of the vice moderator, Dr. Benjamin L. Agnew of Philadelphia, that the hour of the session had expired and that the assembly stood adjourned. One recommendation of the committee was entirely eliminated after an animated discussion and after a division. It related to the formation of Presbyterian unions of young people's societies in all of the presbyteries. The action in this direction was due to the belief that the plan as proposed would seriously interfere with present inter-denominational associations and co-operation.

Some standing committees were announced by the moderator, the chairmen of which are as follows: Bills and resolutions, ex Moderator Dr. Robert R. Booth of New York; judicial business, Dr. Francis C. Monfort of Cincinnati, who was appointed in place of Dr. David R. Breed, who was interested in a case that was to come before this committee; church polity, Dr. R. Davies of New York; home missions, Dr. William P. Kane of Bloomington; foreign missions, Dr. Benjamin C. Henry of Canton, China; education, Dr. Everett B. Thomson of Crawfordville, Ind.; church extension, Dr. William F. Jenkin of Montclair, N. J.; theological seminaries, Dr. David R. Breed of Pittsburgh; ministerial relief, Dr. George B. Stewart of Harrisburg; aid for colleges, Dr. Thomas F. Clelland of Duluth, and benevolence, Rev. Henry G. Smith, the newly elected professor of theology at Lane seminary, Cincinnati.

The report of the committee on the denominational missionary periodical was made by Dr. McIntosh of Philadelphia. It showed successful operation during the year in spite of a slight decrease in circulation. An outline of a Christian training course for young people's societies was proposed on behalf of the periodical, and after some discussion was adopted.

Dr. John Fox of Brooklyn reported on the temporalities of the church, recommending a change in the constitution of the church in regard to the office of deacon, and suggesting that the property of the churches be committed to the board of deacons when possible. No action was taken.

Special reports on new editions of the constitution of the church, and of the digest of deliverances of the assembly were made by the stated clerk, Dr. Roberts.

The report on Sabbath observance was presented by Elder William R. Worrell of New York. The report denounced all work on Sunday; various theories of individual liberty, excursions, ball games, bicycle riding, lax views of the Sabbath, social entertainment, and the Sunday newspaper. Christian people were scored for their lax observance of Sunday. The resolutions which were adopted reaffirmed former deliverances as to the perpetual binding obligation of the Sabbath. They also commended the efforts made in Sunday schools and young people's societies for the better observance of the Sabbath; appointed the last Sunday in October a day for the special consideration of the subject, and commended the work of the American Sabbath union and its auxiliaries.

The report on the admission of polygamous converts to baptism and the church came up on an overture from the synod of India, which asked that the decision be relegated to the synod for decision in each case. The report of the special committee, consisting of Dr. John R. Wells of Brooklyn, president of the board of foreign missions, Dr. E. R. Craven of Philadelphia and Elder George Junkin, was presented by Dr. Craven. It stated that the request could not be granted, and this view was adopted by the assembly by a formal vote.

COMPLAINT AGAINST TWO BISHOPS.

A Preacher Asks Redress From the M. E. General Conference.

CLEVELAND, May 23.—Rev. A. C. Bowditch of Springfield, L. I., has prepared formal complaint against Bishop Fowler and Fitzgerald before the committee on episcopacy of the M. E. conference. He claims that in 1894 Bishop Fowler, while presiding over the New York conference, transferred him, without his knowledge or consent, from New York to the New England conference. He says he went to the New England conference, then in session, and that Bishop Fowler declined to receive him on the ground that he already had more ministers than he could use. Mr. Bowditch went back to New York, but the conference was ended, and he was left without occupation. He asks for $25 for house rent and furniture. Bishop Fowler says Mr. Bowditch wanted to go to Boston, and that he supposed he had a call from a church there. The case was referred to a sub-committee.

There was a hot debate in the committee on itinerancy on the proposition that the bishops be directed not to appoint at annual conference officers addicted to the use of tobacco. The vote stood 24 ayes and 22 nays. The fight in the general conference on this matter will be even more lively.

The committee on temporal economy recommended that hospital work be

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Ervin Dunlap rode his bicycle to Salineville this morning.

The Diamond pump continues to be neither useful nor ornamental.

The high school will hold their annual picnic at Rock Spring on next Wednesday.

A picked nine went to Wellsville this morning to play the Crescent ball club of that place.

School closed yesterday afternoon and the small boy in consequence is in a high state of glee.

Two fakirs held forth in the Diamond last night and made things lively throughout the evening.

The street force are busy today cleaning the principal streets and putting them in a fine condition for Sabbath.

The East Liverpool and Scio college ball teams are battling for supremacy at West End park this afternoon.

The wharf committee have had no meeting as yet, but will probably do so in time to get a report in at the next meeting of council.

Miss Campbell delightfully entertained a small number of her friends at her home in the Porter building last night after the commencement exercises were over.

Thomas Mumford, a member of the library committee of Trades council, was called to Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon by a telegram announcing the serious illness of his sister.

A horse attached to a buggy scared at a passing car in the Diamond yesterday and almost became unmanageable. During its fractious actions the horse kicked a shoe from its hoof.

Will Denmore, who caused much anxiety on the part of his parents by leaving home and not notifying them of his whereabouts, returned to the city yesterday. He had been visiting relatives in Ohioville.

James Marriott, kilnhand at the Union pottery, will leave on July 4, for Newcastle Under Tyne, Staffordshire, England. He goes for the purpose of visiting his parents, who live at that place, and will be absent for three months.

The loading on the street corners has almost entirely ceased, owing to the diligent effort of the officers to break up the practice. The city officials have the warm thanks of a large portion of the community for their efficient service in this direction.

The subject of a telephone to the camp ground is again being agitated, and it is probable that before the season is over a line will be erected to that popular resort. A great many residents of Spring Grove are in favor of a telephone, as it would save them many trips to the city.

The new switch board for the telephone company arrived last evening and will be placed in position tonight. When the board is made ready for business it will almost double the capacity of the present switch board, and will be a great convenience to the operators, besides affording patrons of the company a much better service.

A number of small boys from Fourth street have started a circus. They have a large, commodious tent, in which to perform the latest evolutions known to the artist of the arena, and are importing talent from Sixth street to assist them. If the East Liverpool small boy is not up to date in everything it ain't his fault.

The new instrument protector at the fire station was given a test Thursday night and worked to perfection. Lightning struck the wires during the electrical storm which occurred that night and the small wire was instantly burned out, saving great damage to the instruments, which invariably necessitates considerable expense for repairs.

A telegram was received this morning announcing the death of Monny Armstrong, the five-year-old daughter of John Armstrong, of Sharsburg. The little girl died last evening from the effects of injuries received by being struck by a train on Thursday last. Deceased was a sister of Mrs. George Parry, of East Avenue, and that lady left this morning for the sorrowing home to attend the funeral.

The sub-committee now securing donations for the public library report good progress: several hundred dollars have been subscribed to the fund. The location in the Thompson building is a very desirable one, being easy of access from both Market and Fifth streets. Some necessary repairs to the room have been made, the carpet laid, and the quarters are now ready for the furniture, which will be placed in position next week.

The water works force will make a connection of a four-inch main tomorrow morning, in order that the people living on the upper side of the railroad near the pump house can be supplied with water from the city. The work is done on Sunday, so that none of the works in that section of the city will have to shut down, as they would on a week day, it being absolutely necessary that the water be shut off from the pump house to the East End from 6 in the morning until noon. Hence the residents of East End will have no water for half a day tomorrow.

set her path in trying to select a subject for the commencement. In former school days she had looked forward to the coming of this event with the thought that for months or a year or more previously, that part of that time would be devoted to the preparation of a subject especially for this occasion. "But as the time wore on, three months before commencement found me," said Miss Dunlap, "without any subject. It was not because there was a dearth of subjects to choose from, as there were plenty of them. The difficulty was to determine upon one. Various suggestions were made to me of what to speak on; one of them being the new woman, but from the latter I shrank with horror. Unable to make a choice, I was almost driven to desperation and my thoughts whirled like a potter's wheel. At last I concluded to write an allegory, and submitted it to the principal for correction and it was returned to me accepted, after I had spent the night and dreamed that the manuscript had been so revised and altered under the dissecting glance of a critical eye, that it bore no resemblance to its original self. Passages that impressed me with being particularly brilliant in my dream, were ruthlessly destroyed, so as to be almost unrecognizable. But rising the next morning and approaching my teacher, I found that my essay was accepted." Miss Dunlap was the recipient of prolonged applause at the conclusion of her address.

The quartette then sang and the presentation of diplomas by Superintendent Sanor took place. The chorus then marched to the stage and sang, "Fisher Crew's Return," in a hearty manner. Did you ever wonder what that heavy weight on one side of a locomotive wheel was there for? Anyone who understands mechanics knows the need of a counter-balance to equalize power and keep the machinery going with a steady even motion. Without it the machinery would wrench itself out of shape. It is the same way with the machinery of the human body: it needs to go on steadily and regularly to be in good health—not by fits and starts. The sudden wrenching medicines which people sometimes take to overcome constipation, give a violent strain to the intestines which weakens them, and that the costiveness is afterwards worse than before.

What costive people need is a natural laxative like Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets which are powerful without being violent. They move the bowels gradually and comfortably but surely. You can regulate the dose—one, two or three "Pellets"—exactly as you need. They strengthen the intestines to do their own work, so that after their movements have become regular they keep on naturally of themselves.

The "Pleasant Pellets" gently stimulate and invigorate the liver to throw off biliousness; and tone up the stomach to secrete the digestive juices, and overcome dyspepsia. The entire digestive, or alimentary, tract is put in motion in the regular steady way of nature and health. This is what makes the "Pleasant Pellets" so immensely superior to the numerous purging pills which wrench and weaken the system. Druggists may get more profit out of those other pills but you don't.

The "Pleasant Pellets" are tiny sugar-coated granules—40 or more in a little one-inch vital tightly corked, hence, always fresh and reliable.

set her path in trying to select a subject for the commencement. In former school days she had looked forward to the coming of this event with the thought that for months or a year or more previously, that part of that time would be devoted to the preparation of a subject especially for this occasion. "But as the time wore on, three months before commencement found me," said Miss Dunlap, "without any subject. It was not because there was a dearth of subjects to choose from, as there were plenty of them. The difficulty was to determine upon one. Various suggestions were made to me of what to speak on; one of them being the new woman, but from the latter I shrank with horror. Unable to make a choice, I was almost driven to desperation and my thoughts whirled like a potter's wheel. At last I concluded to write an allegory, and submitted it to the principal for correction and it was returned to me accepted, after I had spent the night and dreamed that the manuscript had been so revised and altered under the dissecting glance of a critical eye, that it bore no resemblance to its original self. Passages that impressed me with being particularly brilliant in my dream, were ruthlessly destroyed, so as to be almost unrecognizable. But rising the next morning and approaching my teacher, I found that my essay was accepted." Miss Dunlap was the recipient of prolonged applause at the conclusion of her address.
